

Getting To Know You Jenga

A Jenga game has 54 blocks but I have included extras so you have some choices if you feel a statement won't work for your students.

Cut out the statement strips and tape each one to the bottom of the Jenga blocks. I use clear scotch tape and it fits perfectly.

To Play the Game:

Set up and play the game just like regular Jenga. The difference is when a student pulls out a block they will read (and finish) the statement on the block. Their response should be fairly short to keep the game going.

I do not have groups bigger than 4 students. This tends to keep them more engaged. If possible have groups made up of students who are not close friends.
